RPX Insurance Case Studies

RPX Insurance Services offers companies unique protection available from no other provider, combining traditional claims-paying policies with litigation prevention and low-cost litigation resolution services. Please see below for some examples of how RPX can mitigate patent litigation risk.

Case Study 1: Facing First Infringement Case, Company Avoids Expensive Legal Tie-up

As an RPX insured, our client paid minimal defense costs – less than $3,700 total – to resolve litigation in just 95 days, preventing what could have evolved into an unpredictable litigation

Case Study 2: Assertion Letter: No-Engagement Strategy Prevails

Companies typically spend tens of thousands of dollars on the investigation and resolution of patent assertion letters. In this matter, RPX investigated and assisted in the management of such a threat, leading to a zero-cost resolution.

Case Study 3: RPX Intel Defuses Claims, Enabling Low-Cost Licensing

Facing a lawsuit targeting its flagship product, our client obtained a license and timely end to litigation through RPX claims management. Without RPX, our client could have paid much more.

* Results may vary and there is not always a zero-cost resolution.
