Casinos

The gaming industry has an enormous turnover of money and chips on a daily basis making it more susceptible to loss. From the blackjack table to the sports book to the accounting operations, vast amounts of money and chips pass through the hands of countless employees and guests. Employees and patrons still commit fraud against casinos despite extensive security measures.

Gaming risks have many of the same exposures as other businesses and are susceptible to vendor fraud, payroll schemes and computer fraud.

Coverage also considered, but not limited to:

- Casinos
- Native American Gaming
- Race Track Betting
- Gaming Boats
- Lotteries

Our Approach to Gaming

Great American has been a leader in the gaming industry since 1995. We offer a stable market with fair and comprehensive underwriting standards, competitive pricing and outstanding loss control and claims service.

We offer products and services for every aspect of a casino’s cash handling operations. Great American uses a well-respected loss control firm to perform security surveys of customers’ operations. We provide recommendations to our customers regarding ways they can improve security and reduce the operational risks of their gaming facilities.

Potential Gaming Industry Exposures:

- Theft of property, cash or chips
- Accounting

Security Guards

Security guard companies operate in a variety of industries, including retail, medical, business and warehouses. Each of these settings bring unique risks and exposures that require careful consideration and expertise in providing the right coverage. With Great American’s Fidelity / Crime Division, you will find peace of mind with specialized protection tailored to fit your specific need.

Check Cashers

Check cashers handle a significant amount of cash, checks and money orders on a daily basis. Many are open 24 hours a day, which significantly increases the risk of loss. Fidelity / Crime coverage helps to protect these businesses from losses involving employee dishonesty, forgery and outside theft.
