

Security Guards Need Protection Too

Let Great American's Fidelity / Crime Division Provide Peace of Mind

Security guards are a great line of defense to protect individuals and companies from danger and financial loss, but who protects the security guard companies? Great American's Fidelity / Crime Division writes both Crime and Kidnap, Ransom & Extortion coverage for these companies. We have the knowledge and expertise to tailor coverages to meet their unique needs.

- In addition to first party coverage, Great American's Fidelity / Crime team can also provide standalone contract specific or blanket clients' property coverage.
- A common request is to write standalone 3rd party coverage to satisfy a contract requirement with a new or existing client. Great American is one of the few carriers who can write this coverage on a standalone and contract specific basis. This allows for the insured to satisfy the contract requirement to secure the bid at competitive premium levels.
- In addition to standard physical security guard operations, we can also provide coverage for companies that install electronic alarms and surveillance equipment, as well as companies who monitor the alarm systems.

The Great American Advantage:

- First and third-party coverage available
- Standalone third-party coverage offered on a blanket or contract specific basis
