Abuse Prevention Monitoring Area Assessment

Organization
Division	Area
Completed by	Date Completed
*Check if Applicable
Assess for Physical Abuse or Inappropriate Discipline
If you see a staff member doing any of the following, they could be at risk of physically abusing a participant and/or using inappropriate discipline:
Raising their voice when speaking with participants and o	ther adults.

Belittling or teasing participants or other adults.
Getting in power struggles with participants.
Failure to complete required training(s).
Personalizing" participant's behaviors.
Not remaining calm under stressful situations.
Failure to complete requested documentation.
Failure to report incidents or injuries.
Failure to attend mandatory meetings.
Breaking policies and training related to de-escalation and discipline.
Additional Documentation/Comments: (Who, What, When, Where)

Assess for Staff-to-Participant Sexual Abuse or Boundary Violations
If you see a staff member or volunteer doing any of the following, they could be at risk of abusing a participant is boundaries:
Allowing participants to take "staff" roles.
Rough-housing or horse playing.
Swearing and/or telling off-color jokes.
 Having staff/personal discussion with participants about: Other participants and/or adults. Personal problems and/or personal relationships. Dating, sexual activities, or secrets
Having a "favorite" participant.
Bending the rules for certain participants.
Giving special gifts to only certain participants.
Unnecessary one-on-one interactions.

Assess for Staff-to-Participant Sexual Abuse or Boundary Violations continued
Ignoring policies related to interacting with participants.
Giving inappropriate physical affection.
Additional Documentation/Comments: (Who, What, When, Where)

Assess for Peer-to-Peer Abuse
If you see a staff member or volunteer doing any of the following, they could be at risk of allowing peer-to-peer abuse to occur:
Lack of knowledge about warning signs.
Allows participants to set the tone.
Is immature and acts more like a participant that a staff member.
Lack of awareness of their own behaviors and how their behaviors impact the participants.
Additional Documentation/Comments: (Who, What, When, Where)

Watch the area and observe the culture and environment. Watch for isolated participant all aspects of the community. Pay attention to staff/volunteer behaviors and what they s time doing. Consider the following points:
Notice where staff members/volunteers are standing in relation to program participants during activities. Are they close enough to be able to tell what is happening at all times?
Pay close attention to playground equipment, play sets, jungle gyms, etc. Large structures can present blind spots, which can become potential areas for peer-to-peer abuse to occur. Do not allow participants to congregate in areas with blind spots, and position staff members/volunteers in a position where there are no blind spots. If this is not possible, consider installing equipment such as mirrors, cameras, transparent materials, etc. that will enable adequate observation.
Participants should always remain in the staff's line-of-sight. Staff should reinforce this with physical barriers or administrative controls. If there are insufficient staff levels to maintain line-of-sight, then certain operations should be suspended until such times as adequate supervision can be conducted. Staff must control the environment, not be controlled by the environment.

General Observations continued
Staff members/volunteers must be able to make an account for all of the participants within their care at any given time.
Additional Documentation/Comments: (Who, What, When, Where)

Additional Follow-Up Practices Based on the real time information being collected during your observations, the following measures should be considered and deployed as necessary to gain further understanding and knowledge: Conduct interviews with staff/volunteers and participants to get a good idea of how things are going. Note: you can interview someone without them even knowing just by having a simple conversation and asking behavioral type questions. Review written records such as incident reports, and/or other documentation on activities. Look for blank spots and/or vague information and follow-up on these items. Talk to others - parents, board members, administrative staff, or anyone who might have different perspectives about interactions. Lack of awareness of their own behaviors and how their behaviors impact the participants. Additional Documentation/Comments: (Who, What, When, Where) General Notes and Observations:

Great American's loss control information is intended to provide guidance and is not intended as a legal interpretation of any federal, state or local laws, rules or regulations applicable to your business. The loss control information provided is intended only to assist policyholders in the management of potential loss producing conditions involving their premises and/ or operations based on generally accepted safe practices. In providing such information, Great American does not warrant that all potential hazards or conditions have been evaluated or can be controlled. It is not intended as an offer to write insurance for such conditions or exposures. The liability of Great American Insurance Company and its affiliated insurers is limited to the terms, limits and conditions of the insurance policies underwritten by any of them. Any claims scenarios are provided to illustrate possible exposures faced by you or your clients. The facts of any situation which may actually arise, and the terms, conditions, exclusions, and limitations in any policy in effect at that time, are unique. Thus, no representation is made that any specific insurance coverage applies to the claims scenarios. © 2022 Great American Insurance Company. All rights reserved. 5485-LC (03/22)

GAIG.com/losscontrol