

Naloxone Amendatory Endorsement Now Available on Industry-Leading Professional Liability

Great American's Specialty Human Services is pleased to announce that it is one of the first carriers to offer a Professional Liability endorsement surrounding the administering of Naloxone.

In July 2015, the Centers for Disease Control reported that the number of heroin overdose deaths quadrupled between 2002 and 2013. In that same month, states began to enact emergency legislation measures to address the devastation of opioid overdoses. Some states began to allow Naloxone, a drug with the ability to counteract opiates, to be administered without prescription.

How does this affect your clients?

Great American's Professional Liability coverage already defines "professional services" to include the furnishing, dispensing or administration of any prescription or non-prescription drug at the direction of a physician. However, the new laws allow various human and social service organizations to obtain doses of Naloxone without a physician's order.

This new endorsement expands coverage to the insured, its employees and volunteer workers (as defined in the professional liability form) in their rendering or failure to render "Professional Services" including:

The furnishing, dispensing or administering of Naloxone (or reasonably equivalent drug) used as permitted by applicable state or federal law in response to an opioid overdose as part of the Named Insured's operation as a social service, human service, religious, educational or cultural organization.

Which clients will this affect?

Organizations that can benefit from this endorsement include:

- Homeless shelters
- Recovery centers
- Rescue missions
- Detoxification facilities
- Emergency housing
- Community outreach organizations
- Private and charter schools
- Churches
