

Great American's Earthquake Solution via Great American Insurance Agency

Contrary to popular belief, earthquakes are not just a west coast problem. But, many insurance policies do not cover these catastrophes. There is no way to predict when an earthquake might strike. If one does strike, can your clients afford to recover from losses they may suffer as a result? They may want to think about the following costs:

- Rebuilding or repairing structures
- Item replacement
- Temporary locations if an earthquake causes structural damage that make buildings unusable for a period of time

Great American's Specialty Human Services, through its Great American Insurance Agency, can help you find the right solution. With the help of various financially stable markets, our Earthquake Solution supports our coverages and enables you to expand your business with us.
